

Surah 68. Al-Qalam

Asad: and [one day] thou shalt see, and they [who now deride thee] shall see,

Malik: Soon you will see - as they will see

Pickthall: And thou wilt see and they will see

Yusuf Ali: Soon wilt thou see and they will see 5596

Transliteration: Fasatubsiru wayubsiroona

Khatab:

Soon you and the pagans will see,

5596 - Though Al-Mustafa's nature raised him above the petty spite of his contemporaries, an appeal is made to their reason and to the logic of events. Was it not his accusers that were really mad? What happened to Walid ibn Mugaira, or Abu Jahl, or Abu Lahab? -and to Allah's Messenger and those who followed his guidance? The world's history gives the answer. And the appeal is not only to his contemporaries, but for all time.
